HAMPTON HERALD

★ December 2010/January 2011 ★

Thank You!!!

In case you can't tell from the smile on my face, I am extremely grateful and thankful for all of your support these past two years! I cannot believe that I have finished my two-year commitment. The years have flown by and I can honestly say they have been the best years of my life. I was able to see God do amazing things, usually despite my weaknesses and failures. But God's Word does say,

"...my strength is made perfect in weakness..."

Good thing, because there is plenty of weakness in this woman! I will be returning to the US on February 23rd and look forward to seeing many of you. I'll be job searching once we find out where Clarence gets a job (still praying and waiting on God for that). I'll also continue finishing up the video project and travel to a couple more destinations for filming. So THANK YOU for your prayers, letters, financial support, everything. This would not have been possible without your contribution. We were partners these past two years and I'm filled with gratitude to have had you all with me. If you have been contributing financially, I hope that after your February payment you are able to transfer that giving to another missionary. "Thank you" does not seem to define my emotions right now, but I've been in Asia for two years so that's the best English this white girl can come up with right now. So again, THANK YOU! I love you all.

Praise and Prayer Requests:

Praise:

- Second video shoot completed
- An amazing two years serving with Wycliffe
- A wonderful boyfriend who loves the Lord
- Great time in Singapore for Christmas and New Years
- Time spent with my sponsored child

Prayer:

- Wisdom as I continue to project-manage the videos from the US
- Wisdom on what next steps are
- Job for Clarence in the US
- Transition to living in the US again
- Video recording in El Salvador in March/April

I was blessed to be able to spend a wonderful weekend with my sponsored child, Carla. We watched movies, made spaghetti, colored, went swimming, and shopped for some new school shoes. Though I speak practically no Tagalog and she does not speak much English, we had a great time together! Love truly does cross all barriers. Pray with me for her future. That God would provide for her needs and become the most real thing in her life.

We had our second video shoot for the video project I am managing! We started off highlighting a small church in Slovakia before traveling on to Thailand to interview the missionary that they support. It was interesting to go from loads of snow in Europe (far left) to a warm climate in Asia. We're looking forward to sharing this story and encouraging people around the world through the example of this church.

What is this? It's called Dinuguan and it's a Filipino dish. But what IS it? Pork blood stew.

I was so thankful to spend both Christmas and New Year's in Singapore with Clarence. Christmas dinner? Chinese noodles!
